Dawes Says That Democrats Stand Astride Barrier

Opposing Major Party Between "Progressive Conservatism" and "Untried and Dangerous Radicalism," With One Conservative and One Radical Candidate on Its Ticket, He Says in His Speech.

Discusses Three Subjects

Republican Vice Presidential Nominee Takes Up League of Nations and World Court in Addition to Assailing Factions – Calls LaFollett "Chief Opponent."

Evanston, Ill., Aug. 19.—The national campaign of 1924 was declared by Charles G. Dawes, in accepting the Republican vice presidential nomination tonight, to be a contest between "progressive conservatism" and "untried and dangerous radicalism."

The nominee, speaking to several thousand persons gathered on the lawn of his home here, asserted the former position to be that represented by President Coolidge, the latter to be exemplified by the LaFollette independent candidacy, and "interposed, the Democratic party, with one conservative and one radical candidate on its ticket, hoping to get votes by avoiding the issue."

Contending that "a formidable attack has been launched on the fundamental principles of the constitution," Mr. Dawes characterized the LaFollette movement as the "chief opponent" of the Republican national ticket and said he considered adherence to the fundamentals of the constitution to be the foremost issue in the November election.

This issue was stressed by the nominee in his address, but he also discussed two other questions at equal length—the League of Nations and the World Court.

He announced his stand on the Republican platform declaration against any entrance into the league, and assailed the Democratic position as "an invitation to again enter that fog of debate in a public referendum," he commended the proposal of the present administration for adherence to the permanent court of international justice, declaring "it is to our national interest and to the interest of the world."

In discussing the constitution, General Dawes attacked the LaFollette [illegible] called "radicalism" in the LaFollette movement and in one section of the Democratic party. He termed the LaFollette movement the chief opponent of the Republican party.

He prefaced the address with figures on economy in public expense effected by the Republican administration.

"This," said Mr. Dawes, "is a campaign of brass-tacks—not bombast.

"This administration reduced the cost of governmental operation, and it was not by accident."

By this saving, he said, "approximately $6,000,000 per day less, for national purposes, will be collected in 1925 from taxpayers, than for the fiscal year of 1921."

In the last pre-budget year after debt payments federal expenditures were 59 per cent and those of cities, states, and towns 41 per cent, while in 1923, he said, the federal government took 41 per cent of the taxes compared with 59 per cent by the other three.

"The federal government," he added, "is headed in the right direction, and most of the states, cities, and towns in the wrong direction."

G. O. P. Stands on Constitution.

Mr. Dawes said President Coolidge was "uninfluenced by motives of political expediency."

The Republican party, he said, stands firmly on the constitution.

"Opposed to it," he said, "though the result may be to deadlock the presidency and make Bryanism succeed the Coolidge policy, is a movement of untried and dangerous radicalism." He said this movement had a platform drawn by one man, designed to soften "apprehension as to what the movement really means."

"A man is known by the company he keeps," said Mr. Dawes, and quoted from Associated Press dispatches concerning the Cleveland convention. He read a statement that "The Socialist party formally enrolled under the LaFollette banner," and another quoting Eugene V. Debs as thinking it "wise for our party to make no nominations" and "to keep the red flag flying."

"Here is the battle alignment, and here are the facts," said Mr. Dawes.

Predicts Downfall for Democrats.

Between these two armies of "progressive conservatism and of radicalism," Mr. Dawes named the Democratic party "with one conservative and one radical candidate, hoping to get votes by avoiding the issue." He predicted the Democrats would "suffer the fate which befalls those who try to straddle in a real fight."

"We are face to face with an abnormal condition in this country. The American citizen has seen men advocating in the same state at the same time, irrespective of their inconsistencies, increased wages for railroad labor and decreased railroad rates, and higher prices for beef on the hoof and lower prices for beef on the table. From the average candidate, in either party, he must accept either evasion or a doctrine designed to please him, whether or not it tends to plunge the whole country into disaster.

League Issue Not Clear.

"Robert M. LaFollette, leading the army of extreme radicalism, has a platform demanding public ownership of railroads and attacking our courts.

"Our nation is asked to follow an attack upon them (our constitutional principles) massed behind an aggressive personality, a heterogeneous collection of those opposing the existing order of things, the greatest section of which, the Socialists, flies the red flag; and into what? Into reopening of war upon those fundamental principles of human liberty and inalienable rights of men which are giving in this country safe opportunity to the humblest."

Mr. Dawes said the League of Nations, was not approved by the people of the United States because it did not make clear to their minds that it did not encroach on the sovereignity of the United States.

"Perhaps," he said, "if those who drew the league plan had felt it incumbent to make its exact meaning as clear to the average man as to those who drew it, the United States might have been spared immersion for five years in the immense fog bank of debate on the league."

The Democratic platform declaration on the league, he characterized as "an invitation to again enter that fog of debate in a public referendum."

Coolidge Listens to Address.

Plymouth, Vt., Aug. 19. — President Coolidge heard Charles G. Dawes, his running mate, deliver his speech of acceptance by radio in his father's home here tonight. Although the speech was not completed until after the usual retiring hour, the President and the other members of his family listened attentively to the Evanston ceremony. He retired immediately afterward without comment.

DEMPSEY HAVING HIS NOSE ALTERED

Surgeons, Not Boxer, Changing Facial Feature of Fighter—To Look Like Valentino's

Los Angeles, Aug. 19. — Whoever opposes Jack Dempsey in the next battle for the heavyweight ring championship will have an opportunity to test his marksmanship on a nice, new nose.

The world's champion today went into retirement with a bandaged face after bowing to the filmdom fad of having one's nose rebuilt to suit the cameramen.

Since Dempsey has been publicly connected with the motion picture industry all summer, there was no way out of it, and accordingly the plastic surgeon was given permission to cut away part of the boxer's left ear and put it where it would make his nose look like Valentino's.

It will be a week, the doctor said, before the new nose can be unveiled.

REDS TO PROTEST WIN OF N. Y. GIANTS YESTERDAY

Cincinnati, Aug. 19. — A protest of today's Cincinnati-New York baseball game based on a decision by Umpire Pfirnan, will be filed. Manager Jack Hendricks of the Reds said tonight.

Travers Jackson, Giant infielder, hit a ball over third base which Pfirnan [illegible] foul. The Giants objected and Pfirnan appealed to Umpire McCormick who was working at third base. McCormick called it a fair ball, whereupon Pfirnan reversed his decision and permitted Jackson to stay on second base. The hit came in the first inning and was in part responsible for New York's three runs in that inning.

NEW BUREAU AT SYRACUSE TO COMBAT DRUG SCOURGE

Syracuse, Aug. 19. — Alarmed by the increased illicit traffic in narcotics in the Syracuse district, the federal government today ordered establishment in this city of an enforcement bureau in an effort to halt the narcotic scourge, which now is claiming hundreds of victims in this area, according to federal officers.

The new bureau will be independent of any other federal organization in this city. In its functions, it will parallel the prohibition enforcement bureau, inasmuch as it will combat the sale and illegal use of all drugs prohibited under the Harrison act.

Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 19. — Sale of the Keokuk & Des Moines railroad, oldest system in Iowa, to the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad for a cash consideration of $1,250,000 was announced today.

The sale was made by E. J. Kelly, special master in chancery, appointed by Federal Judge Martin J. Wade.

STATE DEMANDS DEATH PENALTY FOR 2 YOUTHS

Final Arguments Begun in Franks Case After Defense Fails to Shake Testimony of Last Alienist

STANDARD FIXED

Responsibility for Crime Not Matter of Degree, in Sight of Law, Argues Attorney—Prison Term Too Light

Chicago, Aug. 19. — Unqualified demands for the death penalty for Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, co-murderers of Robert Franks, were made of Judge John R. Caverly, today when the state, through Thomas Marshall, assistant state attorney, began final arguments in the long legal battle.

"If this case does not deserve punishment by death, then no case in the history of Illinois has deserved that punishment," declared Mr. Marshall.

The arguments were reached after Benjamin Bachrach, backed by his brother, Walter, and Clarence S. Darrow, his associates in the defense, had finished pounding at the testimony given yesterday by Dr. William O. Krohn, fifth alienist and final rebuttal witness for the state.

All attempts by the defense to win from the expert a modification of his conclusion that Leopold and Loeb were mentally sound failed. Neither would he acknowledge that his opportunities for observing them might have been improved.

Responsibility Fixed Standard.

Opening the argument for the prosecution, Mr. Marshall indicated that he would consume the rest of the day and part of tomorrow presenting legal aspects.

The attorneys agreed that a hearing on the indictment charging the defendants with kidnapping would take place as soon as Mr. Crowe finishes. Soon after, Judge Caverly probably will announce the date for his decision. Predictions were made tonight that it would be the middle of next week when this point is reached.

Mr. Marshall announced that he would base his arguments on three [illegible] fendants, the impossibility of mitigation, and turpitude of the crime itself. He had progressed only part way into the second subject when adjournment time came.

Responsibility, he maintained, was not a matter of degree, but, in the sight of the law, a fixed standard.

The assistant state attorney told Judge Caverly that the court was bound to follow the law and consider only his three principal subjects, in assisting punishment for "an atrocious murder."

Fourteen years in the penitentiary or imprisonment for life are for lesser crimes, he argued, "They do not fit this case."

LOWER REDISCOUNT RATES GRANTED BY LOAN BOARD

Washington, Aug. 19. — Reduction of rediscount rates was authorized today for the intermediate credit banks by the federal farm loan board. The new rate to financial institutions is five per cent and to cooperative marketing associations four and one-half per cent.

The rates heretofore have ranged to six per cent on some classes of paper and to five and one-half per cent on others. The action of the board in authorizing a cut in the rates is in line with the easier money markets throughout the country. The board, in an official statement, said the reductions were due largely to the lower interest rate which it has had to pay on debentures of the intermediate credit system.

REPAIRS OF FLIGHT PLANES MAY BE QUICKLY COMPLETED

(By the Associated Press.)

Reykjavik, Iceland, Aug. 19.—Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith, commander of the American army world flight, announced that he hoped to hop off on the Greenland leg of the flight tomorrow. It is expected that repairs to the two planes, which were damaged in an attempted start for Frederickdal yesterday, will require only about two hours when the cruiser Richmond arrives with spare parts. If there is any further delay owing to the weather, and if ice conditions become better at Angmagsalik, the flyers may decide to make for that landing point in Greenland, as originally intended, instead of attempting the longer jump to Fredericksdal.

RAIL OFFICIALS REFUSE TO DISCUSS NEW COMBINE

Cleveland, Aug. 19. — Directors of the Nickle Plate, Chesapeake & Ohio and Hocking Valley railroads met here today. Following the meeting no official word could be had as to whether any action was taken on the proposed plan to consolidate these three roads and the Erie and Pere Marquette into a new Nickle Plate system by the Vansweringen interests.

It was announced that the merger plan was informally discussed. It was intimated that any action on this matter would await final word of the Erie railroad's executive committee, to which the matter was referred by the Erie directors [illegible] York yesterday.

Elopers Find Cupid's Knots Hard to Untie

An impromptu elopement of six girls and boys has thrown the legal machinery of Missouri and Kansas into a tangle. For the mamas and papas have stepped into the marital life of the triple entente. When plans were laid to run away from Missouri to Olathe, Kas., and be married, there were but four. On the way, however, two more lovers were found and they joined the wedding party. A sleepy justice of the peace at midnight performed the three ceremonies. Now two of the boys would ask a divorce. But Kansas authorities say it will take more than "under age" to sever the knots. So while family lawyers seek a way out, the sextet has agreed to return to school this fall. The newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Quade (left), Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Costello (center) and Mr. and Mrs. D. Barrett Hamilton (right).

PEGGY'S HUSBAND KNOWS OF ACTION

Count Morner Unofficially Informed of Divorce Suit in Answer to One by Him

New York, Aug. 19.—Gosta Morner, Swedish count and Chicago dental paste manufacturer, unofficially knows that his countess, the former Peggy Hopkins Joyce, is suing him for a separation.

Her suit was in answer to one by the count, her fourth husband, seeking an annulment of their marriage in Atlantic City last June.

The count's lawyer appeared before Supreme Court Justice Cotillo today and, while admitting that his client had unofficial knowledge of the action of his actress-wife, requested that his client be kept in a state of official ignorance. Papers in the countess' action, he said, supposedly served on the count at the Yale club last month, had in reality fallen between a lattice and doorway and had not come into the possession of his titled client to this day. Frankly admitting that the count was dodging service at the time, he asked the court to grant a decree that no service had been made, thus nullifying his wife's action.

Counsel for Countess Morner held that it made no difference whether the count had accepted service of the papers, as he placed himself within the court's jurisdiction through the appearance of his lawyer before the bar.

SISTERS STARVE WITH TWO LIVE CHICKENS ON BEDPOST

New York, Aug. 19. — Miss Mary Ann Reedy, 70 years old and blind, who lived for a half a century with her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Doty, 65, in a small house in Flushing, was tonight in a critical condition at the Metropolitan hospital where she was taken several days ago after she was found starving in her bed. Mrs. Doty died of starvation on Sunday and physicians said Miss Reedy is so weakened by malnutrition that she also may not recover.

For years, both sisters, with only a small income, resorted to the strictest economies to make both ends meet. Recently their money gave out, and they were either too proud or too weakened to appeal for help. When their plight was discovered two live chickens were found perched on the foot of Miss Reedy's bed, but the two sisters were too weak to kill and cook them.

BIG DELAY IN COMPLETING GILBOA DAM; LABOR SCARCE

Albany, Aug. 19. — Delay of nearly a year in completion of Gilboa reservoir of the New York Catskill water supply system is foreseen by George C. Honness, engineer in charge. Inability to obtain labor is the cause, said Mr. Honness today.

The Shandaken tunnel was completed six months ago and through use of a temporary dam, is being utilized. It is anticipated that the 1,300-foot spillway section of the permanent dam will be completed this fall, though to date construction has been slow.

POLICE HOLD ELDERLY MAN.

Syracuse, Aug. 19. — George W. Martin, 60, of Glens Falls, said once to have been a wealthy real estate broker with offices in New York city, today was detained by the police pending investigation as to the methods by which he came into possession of stockings and leather purses. He was detained after a shopping tour.

DEVASTATING RAIN STORM.

Prairie du Chien, Wis., Aug. 19. — A terrific storm this [illegible] uprooted trees, demoralized telephone, telegraph and power service wires, washed out bridges and damaged crops in this vicinity.

Approximately two and one-half inches of rain fell in three hours and roads leading out of this city are reported almost impassable.

FIRPO'S HEARING POSTPONED UNTIL HE FIGHTS WILLS

Argentine Denies Blanca Picart Entered His Stateroom on Liner — Met Her Only Casually, He States

New York, Aug. 19. — Louis Angel Firpo, Argentine heavyweight boxer, will still carry perjury charges upon his shoulders when he faces Harry Wills in a Jersey City ring September 11.

United States Commissioner Hitchcock today held him in $2,000 bail for hearing September 20, on complaint brought by Canon William Chase, president of the New York Civic league. Canon Chase charges that the boxer made false statements to the immigration authorities regarding his acquaintance with Senorita Blanca Lourdes Picarts, on the steamer which brought Firpo back from South America.

Only Met Casually, They Say.

Washington, Aug. 19. — Louis Angel Firpo, Argentine fighter, met Blanca Picart, Cuban and Brazilian manicurist, only casually, once in the United States, and again in Brazil, before the two took the same ship from South America to this country, according to the statement Firpo made to immigration officials as a result of his detention with the woman when they landed in New York.

The immigration bureau has declined to make public the records of Firpo's statement, but it was learned today that both the fighter and Miss Picart denied that she had ever been in Firpo's stateroom on the ship in which the two travelled to the United States.

Firpo told authorities that he did not know that Miss Picart was to be aboard the ship until he saw her there, and that through the trip their relations were limited to conversations at the dinner table and dancing on the shipdeck in which most of the other passengers participated. He did not escort her to her stateroom after the dances, both testified.

Asked by one of the immigration inspectors what he would say if told that an officer of the ship had seen Miss Picart in his stateroom many times during the trip, Firpo said the charge was wholly false.

STONE WOULD QUIT POLITICAL POSITION

Fears Detailed Work as Treasurer of LaFollette's Campaign May Be Too Exacting

Washington, Aug. 19. — Warren S. Stone, head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, has expressed a desire to be relieved of his duties as one of the treasurers of the LaFollette-Wheeler campaign fund, but he is being urged by leaders of the movement not to give up his post.

William H. Johnston, president of the International Association of Machinists, and a member of the LaFollette campaign committee, said today that Mr. Stone had written to him, expressing the belief that there would be too much detail work for him to handle and asking that someone else be designated as treasurer.

In a letter of reply sent today Mr. Johnston urged him to continue as treasurer, and assured him that details would be handled by others.

Mr. Johnston said Mr. Stone in his letter emphasized that he did not want his retirement as treasurer to be construed as meaning he was not whole-heartedly in support of the LaFollette-Wheeler ticket. Johnston vigorously denied reports that there had been friction over the methods being pursued in the raising of a campaign fund, declaring he had heard no criticism on the part of anyone.

M'COY INDICTED ON CHARGE OF MURDER

Also Named for Assault With Intent to Kill and for Robbery—Acts Strangely in Cell

Los Angeles, Aug. 19. — The grand jury late today indicted Kid McCoy, ex-pugilist, for the murder of Mrs. Theresa W. Mors, here August 12. He was also indicted for assault with intent to commit murder and for robbery.

The indictment for robbery followed presentation of evidence of McCoy's shooting orgy in the fashionable West Lake shopping district last Wednesday, when he is accused of having held up several persons in the Mors' antique shop and with having shot and wounded Schapp and his wife, Ann, and W. G. Ross.

There were four counts on the rob[illegible] against the ex-fighter charging him, on three counts, with assault with intent to commit murder.

McCoy started the day in his cell with a demonstration of what police observers termed an unbalanced mind, and what alienists characterized as an attempt to sham insanity.

District Attorney Asa Keyes rushed his three alienists back to the expugilist's cell when he heard of McCoy's actions. After observing the prisoner, two of the alienists declared the Kid was shamming insanity.

While alienists and police were trying to determine whether McCoy was normal or insane, Mrs. Iva Martin was telling the grnad jury that one of the two men she saw running from Mrs. Mors' apartment the night the woman died was not Kid McCoy, but Albert A. Mors, wealthy antique dealer and divorced husband of the dead woman.

SEGER RETURNS TO UNION PACIFIC AS FINANCIAL HEAD

New York, Aug. 19. -- Charles B. Seger, who a number of years ago resigned as vice president of the Union Pacific railroad company to become president and chairman of the United States Rubber company, today was elected chairman of the Union Pacific finance committee, one of the road's most important executive positions.

Mr. Seger will succeed Charles A. Peabody, who took up the post last October when a change was made in the company's executive control. At that time Robert S. Lovett was elected chairman of the board of directors and in place of the executive committee, which he had headed, a [illegible] was elected to have charge of all financial affairs and investments of the company and to possess all the powers of the board of directors when the board is not in session.

THIEVES USE RED PEPPER TO GET MESSENGER'S CASH

New York, Aug. 19. — Momentarily blinding Henry Vogherio, a Y. M. C. A. messenger, by throwing red pepper into his eyes, two bandits made off today with $700 in cash and a check for $200 which the messenger was carrying. The holdup occurred at Eighth avenue and Fourth street in the midst of congested traffic.

As Vogherio reached Fourth street on his way to the 14th street branch of the Chatham and Phoenix bank, [illegible] drew up to the curb and two men alighted. One of them came up behind the messenger and tapped him on the shoulder. When Vogherio turned the bandit tossed a handful of pepper into his face, seized the bag containing the money and check, leaped back into the car with his companion, and sped away.

DISTINGUISHED MEN ASSEMBLE AT PLYMOUTH

Ford, Firestone and Edison Visit President at Home of Father — Laud Coolidge's Administration

FORD GIVEN BUCKET

Had Been Made for Great, Great Grandfather of Chief Executive and Also Used by Latter to Gather Sap

Plymouth, Vt., Aug. 19.—President Coolidge shared his vacation today with Thomas Edison, Henry Ford, Harvey Firestone and Firestone's son, Russell.

For an hour the distinguished party stopped at the home of John Coolidge, father of the President, visiting with the family on the front porch, inspecting the grounds and town, and good humoredly posing for pictures. They were also on vacation, driving through en route to Montreal, Canada.

Calling principally to pay their respects, the visitors gave little time during the stop for a discussion of politics or business, but each assured the President of his support, and predicted success for Mr. Coolidge in the election.

All lauded the President's administration and gave enthusiastic report on business conditions as well as on political affairs in brief interviews. The party enrolled in the "Home Town Coolidge club" at Ludlow, where they stayed last night.

Ford Given Relic.

The President, hearing of their approach, went up to the sugar lot on the farm early this morning and brought down a sap bucket, made for and used by his great great grandfather, an original settler of Plymouth, which he presented to Mr. Ford. The bucket was used also by Mr. Coolidge as a boy in collecting maple sap.

Mr. Ford remarked he appreciated the gift "more than any since I got Mrs. Ford."

Mr. Ford personally assured C. Bascom Slemp, secretary to the President, of his support of the President. [illegible] to take an active part in the campaign. Likewise he expressed the opinion that the candidacy of Senator LaFollette would aid rather than hurt Mr. Coolidge.

"It is useless to discuss the possible effect of a change in administration," Mr. Ford said, "because the people of the country are for Coolidge and are for his election."

Mr. Firestone declared business conditions most satisfactory and he added that settlement of the reparation problem was found to further improve the situation.

Later in the day Governor and Mrs. Redfield D. Proctor of Vermont called and visited for a short while.

Dr. Frederick Lynch, secretary of the Church's Peace union, speaking on [illegible] Nations is still the star of hope there.

Samuel G. These countries, Mr. Inman agreed, need United States capital and this country needs their raw materials.

When a player has once got into the habit of "digging" on his tee shots, how should he proceed to cure the fault?

Answered by BOB MacDONALD

Winner of the Metropolitan open championship, 1921 and 1923. One of the longest drivers in the game though using only a 12¼ ounce driver.

Digging the edge of the driver into the ground on tee shots is caused by just one thing—and that, as shown in the illustration above, is bending the left wrist out instead of in on the backswing. When the wrist is bent out, as shown in the "wrong" illustration, the shaft and club head are twisted so that the edge of the driver is properly held it makes no difference if the club-head hits the ground a foot behind the ball. It hits it flat and will slide straight to the ball.

GOT A HOLE IN ONE
MISS JOYCE WETHERED

"Chick" Evans got his first hole in one last Christmas day, although he has been playing golf, and lots of it, for twenty years. "Chick" aced the fourth hole at the Edgewater Golf club course, and then thanked Santa Claus.

Miss Joyce Wethered, British woman's champion, scored her first hole in one in the British mixed foursome championship at [illegible], driving across a lake for the tenth hole. Her brother, Roger, former amateur champion, arrived just in time to see the shot.

We've told before of a one-armed golfer making a hole in one, but now along comes R. G. Link, whose only arm is his left one, and he shoots a hole in one! Link's shot was made with an iron and occurred on a [illegible] yard hole of the Kasson Golf club course near Rochester, Minnesota.

J. Leslie Bugg of Oneonta, N. Y., is the only hole-in-one golfer in that section. He shot No. 9 at the Oneonta Country club in one a few years ago.

MAHADY WINS

Harrisburg Evens Series With Locals at Two Games Each by Taking Contest Yesterday

Former Unadilla Hurler in Some Tight Places, But Teammates Support Him in Field and With Effective and Timely Work at Bat—Last Game Here Until Labor Day.

With Jim Mahady in the box the Harrisburg team evened the series with Oneonta yesterday afternoon by taking the last contest of the bunch from the locals, 6 to 2, on Neahwa Park diamond. The home club won Sunday's game and broke even on Monday with Killinger's outfit of Senators. This is the last game here until Labor day.

Topel, Oneonta first sacker, was spiked by the manager of the opposing team as the latter ran into first base in the sixth inning. The fielder played the remainder of that frame and the next one, but Manager Thomas took him out in the seventh for a pinch hitter.

Victor was on the mound for the locals and kept the Senators well in hand until the seventh, when they landed on him with hammer and tongs and sent in three runs by means of five hits, including a double and a triple.

The two teams each obtained 11 hits, with all of the extra-base clouts obtained by Harrisburg. Aside from these multiple base drives, the Killinger clan hit more timely and bunched their blows to much better advantage than did the home crew.

The home team got a run in the first. Agnew hit to second for a difficult drive to handle, the fielder stopping the ball and throwing from a sitting position to first, but not in time to get the hitter. Fitch laid down one of the finest bunts executed here this year for a sacrifice and Agnew was on second. Roseberry flied out to right, but Topel came across with a single to right, Agnew scoring. Harner grounded out.

In the fourth, Davis got a life on Sinstack's error, went to third on a bingle by Leach and scored on Killinger's sacrifice fly to center. The next two went out on ground balls.

Harrisburg broke the tie in the sixth. The first two men up fanned, but Leach got a triple when the ball landed on the foul line in left. Killinger's safety to short scored him. It was on this play that Topel was spiked. Most of the fans that expressed an opinion were very decided in their statements about Hoey making a grave mistake when he declared the runner safe at first.

Then came the seventh with its onslaught of safe cracks.

In the latter half of this inning, with the score standing 5 to 1 against them, the Giants got their final run, although they gave Mahady the worst scare he experienced during the contest before they were retired. Victor was passed, as was Agnew after the pitcher had gone to second on a wild pitch. Fitch hit to Killinger, who fielded the ball with one foot on third, and then threw across the diamond for a double retirement. Roseberry got a single to center, scoring Agnew. Clark, hitting for Topel, [illegible]

A Banquet That Was Almost a Tragedy

"Three years ago at a banquet I was stricken with acute indigestion. Two doctors worked over me for an hour before I came to. I had had severe colic attacks before, but nothing like that. No doctors or medicine gave me permanent help until a friend, who was at the banquet, advised me to take a course of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which I did with wonderful results." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At druggists everywhere. Advt.

For comfort in every room, get a Glenwood Furnace. It burns anything

THIS winter will test your home heating system to the utmost. Not only must it heat every room in your home, but it must do the job economically and efficiently with whatever kind of fuel you are able to get.

That is the outstanding advantage of the Glenwood furnace. Its grate is adaptable to any kind of fuel—wood, coal, soft coal or coke.

A Glenwood Furnace makes the most of every bit of fuel. The straight-sided fire box burns the fuel evenly; it doesn't drop a hole out of the center of your fire when you shake down the ashes. The feed doors have been made extra wide to admit large chunks of wood.

It will pay you to find out about the Glenwood Furnace before you begin burning up your winter's supply of fuel in a wasteful or worn-out heating system. We shall be glad to furnish you with full particulars about a Glenwood installation for your home.

LIFE ON THE FARM.

President Coolidge, taking brief respite from the cares of high position, is now back to the farm in Vermont, where his father resides, and where his own early days were spent. Doubtless in such environments the chief executive is recalling the memories of childhood, and living over again those days when in the fields he gained that physical, mental and moral stamina which are his evident attributes.

Back to the farm, however, is not a distinctive yearning for Presidents as distinguished from other men in every walk of life, no matter how far afield the years have carried them. To all men, who are country born, and in particular during the summer days, comes this yearning. It wakens with the first song of birds in earliest spring,—a burst of melody from feathered folk, who sing because, after long months in the southland, yearning doubtless for the yet brown fields where in other years they had lived and loved and mated, soaring on wings sustained by faith and purpose, once more they have arrived. It trickles through the thoughts and animates the spirit with the first days when the streams burst their icy fetters and go rippling in the sunlight toward river, bay and sea. It breathes in a quickening impulse from the first fragrance of grasses and the early blossoming of flowers. It strengthens as the days go by, and spring blends into summer and grasses ripen and corn flaunts the tasseled promise of fulfillment in its ear. And ere the summer entirely passes it bursts all bounds and normal man turns his face again, "back to the farm."

It is a general impulse, and unquestionably a fine one—this which inspires one to slough off for a time at least all acquired attributes and once more to be face to face with nature in its clean and flawless manifestations. Man came from earth, and to earth should he return, and not merely at the end of his life. One is better by far, if when the summer caomes redundant with its joys, he forgets the past and ignores the furure, and lives merely in the present, breathing in those fragrances, seeing those sights and hearing those sounds which, to man in communion with nature, "speaks a various language." He is a wiser man if for a time he leaves behind him the "cares which infest the day" and turns for a little while, at least, back to the [illegible]

LAWS AND CRIME.

Judge Talley of the New York court of general sessions says the United States must plead guilty to being "the most lawless country on earth."

It is a serious indictment, coming from so responsible a source. Yet people who keep in touch with events will probably grant that it is true.

And why must America plead guilty to this charge? Here is one possible answer:

We have more laws than any other country on earth, and we keep right on piling up legislation, making laws of infinite variety and detail for almost every conceivable offense, civil and criminal. Our accepted remedy for any unsatisfactory condition is to enact another law. Perhaps so much public energy goes into the creation of laws that there is not enough energy left to enforce them. Perhaps, too, the very multiplicity of laws makes it impossible to keep track of them, and breeds contempt for them.

If there were fewer laws we may be pretty sure that those laws would be better observed. How would it do to start a campaign for law observance by repealing about half the laws on the statute books? Or reducing the present quantity one-half by combining and simplifying existing laws?

LIMITATIONS

Hitherto shalt thou come, but no further.—Job 38:11.

It is not only the sea to which God has set limits.

Everything has its limits; even human nature.

And yet men will go on acting as if there were no end to their personal possibilities.

One of the first signs of intellectual maturity is the recognition of limitations.

The city feller may rather fancy himself in the garb of a cowboy. So far it is nothing but dressing up.

But let him not forget that the work of a cowboy is only for him who has something in him which is not native to all men.

The 250 pounder will not make a distance runner nor the 110 pounder a footballer.

No man is yet found who can remain continuously awake, or who can escape the need of food and drink.

In reality, it is the part of cowardly egotism to refuse to recognize the limits of human nature, and in particular our own limitations.

There is no need to be apologetic about such limitations as are inherent in your nature unless you are failing to make the most of what possibilities you have.

For the first step in overcoming limitations is to recognize them.

Even if you can't lift a rock with your arms and back, you may have brains enough to use a lever.

The result is the same.

WHAT THE PAPERS SAY

Advertising a Business.

There may be nothing very startling about it to the general reading public, but when 4,500 men and women from 32 countries crowd into one building at the same time to discuss their business in life, certainly it is worth looking into. That business, be it observed, is advertising; and it's not so many years ago that publicity was merely a "happen so" of the vaguest sort. — Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

Airplane Development.

Nothing—unless it be the radio—so much excites the popular imagination as the airplane. Experiments which have lately been conducted in[illegible] natural law for this mechanism, are by no means as cramping as we have supposed. The airplane can fly longer and farther than any one thought possible only a short time ago.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Auto Note.

Some one has made the valuable discovery that in the state of California more people named Smith own cars than people bearing any other name. Thus the Browns and the Johnsons, important as they are in our national life, must take second place in significance.—St. Paul Dispatch.

The Tonsil Harvest.

The shortage of up-to-date doctors in the rural districts is said to be so serious that people living there almost never have their tonsils taken out unless it is necessary.—Ohio State Journal.

A Texas Candidate.

That the Lone Star state is to have the lone woman governor in the Union seems to be a lively possibility. The slogan, "Me for Ma"—the candidate is known through the state as "Ma" Ferguson — is said to be the [illegible] that the opposition has to fight. Such is the psychology of politics.—Springfield Republican.

CENTRAL NEW YORK DANES

Plan Annual Folkefest in Neahwa Park Last Saturday of August — Talented Speakers and Danish Singing.

Announcement is made that the fifth annual folkefest of the Danish society of New York state will be held Saturday, August 30, at the pavilion in Neahwa park, which has been the scene of three of the four preceding similar events. An excellent program has been prepared and the outlook is for a gathering of several hundred natives of Denmark and their descendants, assembled to sing the old songs, speak the old tongue and renew the old associations.

The morning session will be called to order at 10 o'clock and there will be an hour of song, and an address by a prominent speaker. An excellent dinner will follow and after dinner the exercises of the day will be resumed. There will be songs, in the language of the new land and of the old. The speakers of the day will be Pastors Bertelsen and Petersen of Brooklyn.

The Ladies' society of the Danish Lutheran church of Laurens will have cakes, sandwiches, pies, coffee and other refreshments on sale for the [illegible]. All Danes are cordially invited to attend, bringing songbooks, and to take part in the exercises of the day.

Though there is a considerable number of Danes scattered throughout the state, the largest settlements of these very desirable immigrants are in Otsego and Delaware and in adjoining counties; and it is believed that with favorable weather four or five hundred members of the Dansk Folkesamfund of New York will be present. Oneonta, which three times out of four has welcomed the folkefest to Neahwa park, will as cordially greet them again, bidding all to "make themselves at home" within its borders.

The officers of the society are Andrew Madsen of Bloomville, president; Edward Hansen of Laurens, treasurer, and Walter Nissen of Davenport, secretary.

USE OF LIME NOT GOING OUT

Some Sweetening Is Necessary to Grow Desirable Legumes on Sour Empire State Soils.

Soil liming is not going out of fashion with the business farmer who has an eye for results, says Professor A. F. Gustafson of the soils department of the state college of agriculture at Ithaca. He points out that in recent months there has been some discussion in agricultural papers to the effect that liming the land was an absolute or unnecessary practice.

He admits that on soils only slightly acid, the application of farm manure and acid phosphate may be sufficient to produce a good growth of clover, especially alsike, and these, of course, are most commonly used in good systems of general livestock farming in New York state.

[illegible] soils, he says, liming is the cheapest known method of correcting soil acidity and making possible the growth of desirable legumes.

Emphasis should be laid likewise, says Professor Gustafson, on the regular use of phosphorus for growing clover. A suggested inexpensive but [illegible] system of soil treatment for clover is all the manure available on [illegible] acid phosphate put on at the average rate of about [illegible] to the acre for each year of the rotation, together with the lime necessary in the particular region involved. Acid phosphate seems to reduce the soil acidity a little, but the use of lime in some form—limestone [illegible]—is the best known way to make clover grow on a sour soil.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

PYORRHOEA AND A SLUGGISH CIRCULATION.

A dentist and physician, discussing that widespread ailment pyorrhoea, began to compare notes.

The physician asked the dentist this pointed question.

"Have you noticed that pyorrhoea seems to be more common in our upper than in the poorer classes?"

The dentist agreed that such was the case.

"Now as to the care of the teeth, do the upper classes not brush their teeth more regularly, and in a general way watch the condition of the teeth better than the poorer classes?"

The dentist again admitted this to be the case.

"Isn't the condition as a whole more common than it ever was before?"

"Yes."

"Well, what's the matter?"

"Well," stated the dentist, "it only goes to prove that it isn't the condition of the gums themselves, but of some general condition in the body."

When mouths that never see a tooth brush escape, and others that receive constant attention are affected, there must be a reason."

"This," said the physician," is just what the medical profession and the dental profession also are beginning to realize. It is not uncommon to find patients with pyorrhoea suffering also with some general constitutional disturbance such as constipation, rheumatism, and gout. It is frequent also among tuberculosis patients.

One suffering with tuberculosis, with gout, rheumatism or constipation is certainly not going to move around very much. The first three incapacitate him as to walking or any exercise, and constipation is the most effective method known for making a man lazy, mentally and physically.

What is the result?

Two very simple things happen and yet they tell the whole story. The man who can't or will not move his body will weaken his heart muscle and thereby slow up his circulation. The blood "loiters" too long in various parts of the body, including the gums. It does not bring the blood to the part in the best condition.

And then again, the wastes are not removed because of this inactivity of the body.

Every physician knows that getting the wastes away from the body is the most important part of the treatment.

"Then," said the dentist, "the cause [illegible]"

"I think so," said the physician.

"So do I," said the dentist.

Think it over.

TO SAFEGUARD PUBLIC.

Members of District Chiropractic Society Approve Proposed Law.

Provisions of a chiropractic bill to be introduced at the next session of the legislature at Albany, providing public safeguards for those who wish to take chiropractic adjustments, have been announced by Dr. Lionel K. Conklin, president of the Binghamton district Chiropractic society, following a conference with Dr. Louis E. Blackmer, director of the State society, Dr. Floyd C. Gould, retiring president, and Dr. Dewitt C. Griggs of Oneonta, who are directors of the local society.

The purpose of this bill, according to Dr. Conklin, is to afford the people of the state a proper guarantee that the chiropractor has acquired an adequate training and is properly qualified to make adjustments in the practice of his profession. The proposed law calls for a preliminary education of at least a high school course; a professional training of three college years; the appointment by the State Education department of an examining board made up of chiropractors; the passing of an examination in anatomy including histology and embryology; hygiene and sanitation including bacteriology; physiology; pathology; chiropractic analysis, and science and practice of chiropractic; and the issuing of a license to those who succeed in passing these examinations."

The provisions of the bill for those at present practicing chiropractic in the state are rigid. It provides that each chiropractor shall have taken a resident course in a chiropractic school of recognized standing and shall have had at least three years of professional practice. This will automatically eliminate all those practitioners whose educational qualifications do not come up to these standards.

Formal approval of the proposed bill was voted by the local district society by the passage of a resolution pledging support for this legislation.

INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT.

Three Members of Norwich Motor Party Now in Geneva Hospital.

Norwich, Aug. 19. — Three members of a Norwich motor party of six are in a Geneva hospital from injuries in an accident five miles from that city Saturday night when a big touring car, speeding 50 miles an hour, attempted to pass their Dodge car on a turn and tipped them over into the ditch.

The injured are Mrs. Margaret Potter, fractured skull and broken rib and wrist; Charles Potter, broken collar bone and bruises; Anthony Loftus, fractured ribs and injured collar bone. Mrs. Potter's condition is considered serious. The names of the other members of the party who were not seriously injured, could not be learned.

The larger car said to be responsible for the mishap, sped away without offering assistance or waiting to learn the extent of the injuries. Other motorists came to the rescue and assisted in getting the injured to the hospital. State troopers were soon on the ground and started a search for the driver of the car which caused the accident.

TESTING NEW LOCOMOTIVE.

High Pressure Engine with Booster Attachment on Trial Trip.

Engine "1400," the new type of high pressure locomotive, with a booster attachment to the rear trucks of the tank, which the Schenectady Locomotive works recently completed for the D. & H. company, and in which several D. & H. officials are financially interested, was in the city yesterday on a trial trip. It brought a train to Oneonta from Mechanicville on Monday and yesterday pulled a train of 50 loaded cars from Oneonta to Mechanicville.

While the company is not giving out any details relative to the novel features of the new engine, it is understood in railroad circles that the officials are well satisfied with its performance and that it possesses possibilities for the future quite meeting expectations.

It is designed to use steam on one side at high pressure and then the steam is carried around to the other side by a large conveyor that winds around over the boiler at the front and is used again on the opposite side at low pressure. The booster is used in climbing steep grades or starting a big load and is proving a success. Superintendent of Motive Power Edmonds accompanied the engine on the trip to observe its performance.

CABOOSE TO BE PLACED

Arrangements Nearly Completed for Neahwa Park Pergola for Birthplace of Trainmen's Union.

The caboose in which eight men formed the Brotherhood of Trainmen on September 23, 1883, in the D. & H. yards in this city will be established in a place of honor in Neahwa park Tuesday, September 23, when members of Oneonta Lodge, 1, of the trainmen, observe the forty-first anniversary of the lodge and the order.

W. G. Lee, president of the brotherhood, other officials of the union, officials of the railroad, Mayor W. L. Bolton and his staff of city executives and members of the union from all cities in New York and from many places in Pennsylvania, Vermont and Canada will attend.

Governor Alfred E. Smith informed the committee in charge that he cannot participate because of the Democratic state convention on Sept. 25 in Syracuse. Lieutenant Governor George R. Lunn of Schenectady is expected to attend.

The caboose will be dedicated in its final resting place with a public ceremony in the afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Several of the distinguished visitors will speak. The band of Company G, New York National Guard, will play.

The car in which the organization was formed has been preserved by members of Oneonta lodge and the railroad has placed the caboose in as near the condition it was when it served as a meeting room for the eight original members of what is now considered one of the strongest railroad brotherhoods.

The caboose will be placed in a pergola in Neahwa park. This is being built through aid from the railroad.

Plans for preservation of the caboose were completed last year when members of the lodge observed the fortieth anniversary. J. T. Loree, general manager of the D. & H., and Thomas R. Dodge, assistant president of the trainmen, said the caboose should be established in a place of honor as a monument to organized labor. Guests and visiting members will attend a banquet that night at the Elks club. Later a ball will be held at the armory.

Marshall E. Roarick is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the celebration and dedication. He is assisted by David A. Devine and Wallace D. Blake.

DEFENSE DAY PLANS

Committees Consider Arrangements at Meeting Held at Armory Last Evening—Half Holiday Hoped.

A meeting of the various committeees recently appointed by Captain Louis M. Baker of Company G to assist in arrangements for the local observance of National Defense day on September 12 was held at the armory last evening and general enthusiasm was manifest toward making the day one of wide and interested appeal. It was decided at the meeting to interview Oneonta merchants with a view of making Defense day a half holiday in order that the best results might be attained. While there has been no definite assurance, it is thought that co-operation will be general and that with the half-holiday the event will be one creditable to the city and successful from every point of view.

A mammoth parade is planned for the afternoon with patriotic, fraternal, and civic organizations participating. Arrangements are being made to secure the Oneonta bands for the occasion. The parade will disband in time to allow all to attend the ball game that afternoon, which probably will become a feature of the day.

For the evening a number of speakers are under consideration and it is thought that one can be secured to make the day one of the big ones of the year.

Let 'Em Go to Thunder.

It is probably possible to teach people how to help themselves and be helped, but so many of them won't be helped, that after 35 years of hard, faithful and unselfish work along this line, I sometimes think that it is better to let them go to thunder and start over. But the good book says: "Love and help our fellow men," so I keep at it, and am sure making a lot of 'em sit up and take notice. Can't you help me? As by doing it, you also help yourself. It's a great big, broad minded and altruistic work. Mull this over. I'm the safe and sane Oneonta Building and Loan association. advt 1t

REVERSE TURNS PROHIBITED

IMPORTANT PROVISION OF NEW CITY TRAFFIC ORDINANCE PASSED BY COMMON COUNCIL.

Turns Against Traffic Forbidden on Main Streets and Ford Avenue—Grove, Dietz, Broad and South Main Streets and Ford Avenue—Turning Around at These Corners Also Prohibited.

Reverse turns, that is, turns to the left against the current of traffic, are prohibited on Main street at its intersections with Ford avenue, South Main street, Broad street, Dietz street and Grove street, by the terms of a new city traffic ordinance passed by the Common Council at its regular meeting last evening. Turning around on Main street at its intersections with Ford avenue, South Main street, Broad street, Dietz street and Grove street is also prohibited. According to the provisions of the state home rule law a public hearing on this ordinance must be held before it can become effective. The date for this hearing will be advertised within the next few days.

The ordinance also establishes the maximum speed limit within the city limits as 20 miles per hour. It has the following to say in regard to parking:

"Excepting in an emergency or when advised to do so by a police officer, no vehicle shall be stopped or left standing within the intersection of any cross street; within 15 feet of any cross walk or designated street crossing or alley corner, except where a traffic officer is on duty; within 10 feet of any fire hydrant, unless the vehicle is in actual charge of a person capable of driving it; in front of or within 15 feet of either side of the entrance of any theatre, fire station or other building where large assemblages of persons are being held, except to take on or discharge passengers or freight, and then only for such length of time as is necessary for such purpose.

"No vehicle shall be stopped or left standing for a period of more than one-half hour on either side of Main street between its intersection with the easterly side of Elm street and with the westerly side of Grove street. No vehicle shall be parked or left standing on the easterly side of Dietz street between its intersection with Main street and Reynolds avenue. No vehicle shall be parked or left standing on either side of Broad street for more than one hour. This section shall be in force only during the months of May, June, July, August, September and October of each year, and only between the hours of 9 a. m. and 6 p. m. of each day.

"No vehicle shall be parked or left standing in any part of the city of Oneonta in the zones designated by "No Parking" signs located and established by the police commission of the city of Oneonta."

The punishment for violation is fixed as follows: "Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $50 for the first offense; and by a fine not exceeding $50 or imprisonment not exceeding six months, or by both fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court, for a second or subsequent offense."

The most drastic provision of the ordinance is that prohibiting reverse turns. This means virtually that a car going west on Main street cannot turn down South Main street or Broad street; that a car going east on Main street cannot turn up Grove or Dietz streets or Ford avenue; that a car going toward Main on Grove or Dietz streets or Ford avenue cannot turn east on Main; and that a car going toward Main on Broad or South Main streets cannot turn west on Main.

No Market Price Board.

The question of the public market was discussed and the market committee decided to have the price board removed for two weeks. This will enable farmers using the market to charge what prices they choose for their products instead of being limited by a fixed maximum price. The 50 cent fee for use of the market was retained.

It was reported that no dog pound had yet been established and it was agreed that the dog license law could not be adequately enforced without such a pound. It was decided to erect a suitable inclosure upon city property and the police department was directed to select a suitable place for such inclosure.

Polling places for the coming registration and general election were fixed as follows: First district, Municipal building; second district, Borst's barn, 19 Maple street; third district, Boy Scout headquarters, Ford avenue; fourth district, Spencer's barn, 7 Cherry street; fifth district, Kilkenney's barn, 59 Chestnut street; sixth district, Mitchell street school. The primary election will be held at the old polling places.

The city assessors were authorized by the council to change such house numbers on Fonda avenue as are in need of change.

"VANITY BOX"

Unique Entertainment Coming to the Oneonta Theatre Monday Next.

Tuneful, syncopating jazz, and clever comedy interspersed with love haunting melodies, and presented by a selected cast of musical comedy artists that is a credit to the best of musical shows from Broadway runs, is promised in the forthcoming engagement of the sensational musical play, "Vanity Box," a much heralded production booked at the Oneonta theatre one night, Monday, August 25th.

A "prize beauty" chorus, embracing the most attractive of the high kicking aristocracy of the stage, is the one of the many features that is said to attract more than the passing attention, as they are the fastest bunch of chorus performers ever gotten together in any show.

The song numbers are all new and varied, and dancers supreme will also grace the bill, while the world's greatest jazz orchestra, the "Pennsylvania Twelve," performing exclusively for this organization, will encourage the syncopators and hoofers to their utmost.

GIANTS GO ON ROAD

Best Wishes of All Local Fans Will Accompany Roy Thomas and His Men on Tour of Circuit.

The Oneonta Giants played yesterday their last home game until September 1 and will start today on a two weeks' tour of the circuit, opening in York tomorrow. With them will go the best wishes of all local fans. Since Oneonta joined the New York-Pennsylvania league the best baseball ever witnessed in the city has been played regularly at Neahwa park and the fans are very well satisfied with the work of Roy Thomas and the men.

The team lost at the outset three out of four games to Elmira in that city, all of them closely contested battles. Returning to Oneonta the Giants took one out of three from the league leading Williamsport Grays, won three out of four from Elmira and got an even break in the four-game series with Harrisburg. That is a very good showing for a team not yet organized and handicapped by injuries to players.

Turk is home, sick, and Hughes has been out of the game for two days on account of illness. Topel was not able to play all of yesterday's game on account of an injury. With the low player limit, which does not permit the carrying of utility players, such losses from the ranks mean that pitchers and catchers must play infield and outfield positions. Despite this fact, the team has plugged along and has played brilliant baseball.

If the Giants win half of the games on the road local fans will be well satisfied. The work of the team will be followed with interest and doubtless the story and box score which The Star will carry of each game will be eagerly read.

ONEONTA STORAGE BATTERY

Stockholders to Meet at Chamber of Commerce Offices Thursday Evening.

An important meeting of the stockholders of the Oneonta Storage Battery corporation, at which it is expected that a number of the prominent business and professional men of the city interested in the commercial life of the city will be present, has been called to meet at the Chamber of Commerce offices on Thursday evening.

At this meeting future policies of the company will be considered and it is hoped that some constructive suggestions relative to the development of the industry will be received. It is hoped that all who receive a letter of notification of the meeting will arrange to attend, that the subject may be well considered and the best interests of the stockholders of the company served.

Picnic on Friday.

The Colonel Walter Scott auxiliary, U. S. W. V., and families will join with the other patriotic organizations and families of the city and hold a picnic at Wilber park Friday, August 22. Bring covered dish and sandwiches; also necessary dishes. Supper at 5 o'clock. If rainy the picnic will be postponed.

Relatives in Oneonta have received notice of the birth last week in the Brady Maternity hospital, Albany, of a daughter, Wanda Elaine, to Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Young of the latter city. Mr. and Mrs. Young are well known former residents of Oneonta.

DEATHS.

Adelaide Freelove Yager.

Adelaide Freelove Yager, daughter of George H. and Amelia Gould Yager, died Tuesday morning at 1:30 o'clock at her late home, 274 Chestnut street, after suffering a shock four days ago. Last November she had the first shock and from that time had been quite helpless.

She was born March 10, 1856, in the town of Oneonta and for 38 years had resided with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Alice Yager, who died in May of this year. When a young woman she became a member of the First Baptist church and was active in all its affairs as long as she was able. She had a fine Christian character, which was very marked the last nine months by the fortitude and patience with which she bore her affliction.

Her death will be deeply mourned by the nephews and nieces, with whom she has always lived: Mrs. Cornelius Jahn, Louis O. Yager, Mrs. W. Clinton Noble and Howard D. Yager. Two other nieces and one nephew also survive, Mrs. William Barlow of Oneonta, Mrs. Elmer Howe of Denver, Colorado, and Charles Yager of Binghamton.

The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. She will be buried in Riverside cemetery by the side of her parents.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Sarah Weir Cross.

Mrs. Sarah Weir Cross died at her home, 6 Harmon avenue, early Monday morning of stroke, following an illness of only a few days, as noticed in The Star. Funeral services will be held from her late home this afternoon at 3 o'clock, with Rev. L. C. Denney of St. James' church officiating. Burial will be made in the Plains cemetery.

Mrs. Cross was born in Newry, Ireland, in 1851, the daughter of James and Margaret Campbell Weir. In 1884 she came to this country and to Oneonta, which had since been her home. September 1, 1889, she was united in marriage with James T. Cross, who died in August, last.

Surviving her are a daughter, Miss Margaret Cross; a niece, Mrs. H. F. Dubben, and a nephew, James Weir, of this city. They will have the sympathy of a host of friends in their loss.

Mrs. Cross was a faithful member of St. James' church of this city and had a wide circle of friends, who will deeply regret her passing.

Good News That Makes Kids Happy

Castor Oil Comes in Delightful Chocolate Candies Now and You Can't Taste the Oil.

This is one of the big discoveries of recent years—pure castor oil—the oil itself—is mixed in a high-grade chocolate confection in such a clever way that no one can taste or smell the oil.

These delightful candies are known to all druggists as Kastor Jems and they surely are sweeping the country by storm.

One Kastor Jem is the proper dose for a child—while adults find two just right.

You'll be astonished at the good results of Kastor Jems—one trial package which costs but 20 cents will prove to you that nasty, vile smelling and tasting castor oil need have no further place in your home.

Think of the little ones—why terrify them with the castor oil bottle when you can delight them with a Kastor Jem and the result is the same.

Say, I'm a bear of a pitcher - give me a job and the Pennant is yours.
George Milstead

George Earl Milstead is a young pitcher who is making good with the Chicago Cubs. George Earl is the only mail order pitcher in captivity. Last year George Earl sat down and wrote all the big league managers about himself and asked for a trial. The Cubs decided to "order" him. It was a fortunate decision. GROCERIES AND HARDWARE

Courtesy All Around.

Charles: Oh mamma, the grocer just gave me three sticks of candy!

Mamma: Well, you must be polite and offer your little sister two of them.

Charles: All right, mamma; but I wish you'd tell her to be polite, too, and only take one.—[The Progressive Grocer.

Puffed Rice.

First Flapper: Now that Maud's engaged, she doesn't speak to the rest of us.

Second Flapper: No, her head is so swelled that I understand they're going to throw puffed rice at her wedding.—[The Progressive Grocer.

Anxious to Please.

Grocer: Why in blazes are you putting those cans upside down?

New Clerk: I heard you say that you wished you could turn over your stock in a hurry.—[The Progressive Grocer.

Not Even Doubtful.

"I suppose you have a good many doubtful bills on your books?" said the friend.

"I only wish they were," sighed Dealer Carryall. "There's no question about most of them."—[Good Hardware.

Doesn't Seem Right.

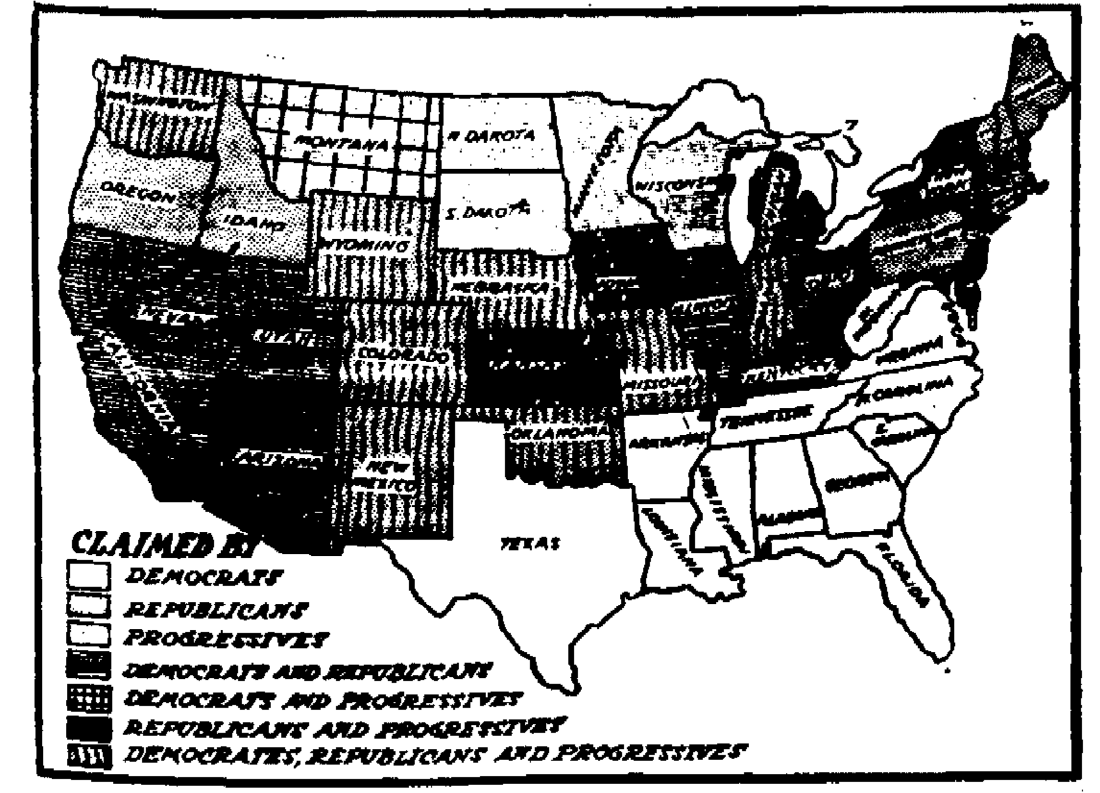
Life is one merry old muddle. The weathy men have their twin sixes and no children to fill the back seats, and the poor fellows have six twins and can't even afford a one-seated flivver to haul them in.—[Good Hardware.

Wary.

Stage Hand: Did you say these stage directions called for a window or a widow?

Manager: I said "window," but they're much alike. When I get near either of them, I always look out.—[Good Hardware.

Map of Political Situation



Here Is the Electoral Vote by States:

Alabama	12	Iowa	13	Nebraska	8	Rhode Island	5

Arkansas	9	Kentucky	13	New Hampshire	4	South Dakota	5
California	13	Louisiana	10	New Jersey	14	Tennessee	12
Colorado	6	Maine	6	New Mexico	3	Texas	20
Connecticut	7	Maryland	8	New York	45	Utah	4

Florida	6	Michigan	15	North Dakota	5	Virginia	12
Georgia	14	Minnesota	12	Ohio	24	Washington	7
Idaho	4	Mississippi	10	Oklahoma	10	West Virginia	8
Illinois	29	Missouri	18	Oregon	5	Wisconsin	13
Indiana	15	Montana	4	Pennsylvania	38	Wyoming	3

Never probably was there so doubtful a presidential campaign as this year's. Political bosses of the three tickets are each claiming a victory. Your guess is about as good as theirs. The states are shaded to show the claims being made at this time by the candidates. Republicans claim 281 votes, 15 more than enough to win. Democrats claim 189 votes sure and have visions of carrying three more states—while Progressives have 59 votes in their column and see many doubtful states. Get out your pencil and figure it out for yourself.

PESKY BED-BUGS

Bedbugs lay an average of seven eggs per day. Under favorable conditions they hatch in five days of which two thirds are females. They mature to adult size and are capable of laying in four weeks. How many bedbugs would you have in a year if you left one female or egg unmolested for one year?

To rid the pesky bedbugs, you readily see how necessary it is to use a preparation that will kill the eggs as well as the live ones.

P. D. Q. has been demonstrated by the leading hospitals, hotels and railroad companies that the safest and most economical way to stop future generations of bedbugs, roaches, moths and ants is to use the new discovery Pesky Devils Quietus "P. D. Q."

A 35c package of P. D. Q. makes a quart, enough to kill a million bedbugs, roaches, fleas and moths and at the same time destroy their eggs.

Impossible for them to exist when P. D. Q. is properly used. Free a patent spout in every package to get the pesky devils in the hard-to-get at places and save the juice.

P. D. Q. is not an insect powder, no muss or dust, does not rot or burn the bedding.

P. D. Q. for family use 35c. P. D. Q. can also be purchased in sealed bottles, double strength, liquid form.

Genuine P. D. Q. is never peddled. Advt.

Let Us Figure the Cost of Building a Home

Whether or not you are thinking of building a home we would be pleased to estimate the cost of one for you.

Since lumber, more than any other material, is used in the construction of the average home, we believe we can show you that the possibilities of building a home are within your reach.

You will not be obligated in any way for your talk with us. Come in any time.

Wallpaper to Beautify Your Home

Selecting the proper Wallpaper for your home is as much a matter of art as selecting the correct paintings to hang on your walls. You must choose the proper colorings to blend correctly, and at the same time, you must keep the decorative features above criticism.

A well papered room is the best invitation you can offer your guests and speaks for itself. We'll be glad to furnish quotations.

Ten secondary rails averaged 87.06; previous day 87.07.

Combined average 90.98; previous day 91.01.

Combined average month ago, 90.55; year ago 87.27.

New York, Aug. 19. — Bullish demonstrations in a select assortment of coppers, public utilities, and industrial specialties featured today's irregular and active stock market. Forty-five issues attained new peak prices during the session, including eight metals, six rails, five public utilities, four tobaccos, and three rubbers.

Extensive profit taking continued, particularly in the steels, equipments, motors, and dividend paying rails. Davidson Chemical broke seven points to 45⅜, but it rallied to 48. Net losses in most of the other active issues were held to a point or less.

Allis Chalmers was the outstanding strong spot in the specialty list, closing six and one-half points higher at 66½, a new 1924 top, on buying undoubtedly influenced by reports that orders on hand were sufficient for six months' capacity operations. Other specialties to sell at their best prices of the year were International Business Machines, Texas Gulf Sulphur, May Department Stores, Gimbrel Brothers, Fleischmann, American Radiator, Postum Cereal, Union Tank Car and General American Tank Car.

American Can led the standard industrials by climbing four points to a new peak at 134⅛, while American Locomotive moved up two points to a new top at 82⅜. United States Steel eased five-eighths to 110 and Baldwin and Studebaker also closed fractionally lower.

Public utilities strengthened under the leadership of Western Union, which advanced more than four points to 118. Other issues in that group to break through their previous high prices were Brooklyn Edison, Brooklyn Union Gas, All-American Cables, and Manhattan Guaranteed stock, Montana Power, Virginia Railway and Power and Pacific Telephone moved up three to four points.

Coppers and shippings continued to discount the benefits expected to result from the adoption of the Dawes plan, Marine preferred, American International corporation, American Smelting, Anaconda, Inspiration and several others moving to new high ground.

New York Central touched 110⅜, its highest price since 1906, but Union Pacific, Lackawanna, Illinois Central, Canadian Pacific, and several other high grade carriers fell back on profit taking. Nickle Plate dropped three points to 110⅜. International Railways of Central America preferred jumped two and one-half points to a new top at 55½, in reflection of record breaking July earnings.

Unsettled by continued profit taking the bond market today was marked by narrow and unimportant price fluctuations.

Trading in railroad liens provided few features of interest. St. Paul issues encountered profit taking, but continued unusually active with large turnovers of the four per cent bonds maturing next year. These hovered slightly below the year's record of 84, established yesterday. Northern Pacific 4s led a moderate advance in high grade issues and a revival of activity took place in the Missouri Pacific and International-Great Northern obligations.

When Sheridan of "The Rivals" was in the decline of health and fortune he met an old creditor who humbly reminded him of a debt incurred twenty years before. "And times are so hard, Mr. Sheridan." "To think I have never remembered it! What a brute I've been! But there, shall I name a day for repayment?" Eager acquiescence on the part of the creditor, and Sheridan ran on: "What would you say, then, to the day of judgment? But no! That will be a busy day; let us say the day after!"

HIGH COST MILK PRODUCTION

State Expert at Cornell University Advises Less Concentrates and More Clover.

Eastern farmers cannot afford to produce milk at the present price and buy feed concentrates at the high level brought about by the increased values in wheat, corn, oats and barley. The result must be less milk produced. This is the opinion of E. S. Savage, dairy feed expert at Cornell university, expressed in the last issue of the Dairymen's League News.

Conservatively estimated, it takes at least 34 pounds of feed concentrates, Mr. Savage says, for 100 pounds of milk testing 3 per cent butterfat. With concentrates at $50 per ton the cost of concentrates for 100 pounds of milk is [illegible] cents. Figured without any profit, the cost of milk production in August, based on the Warren formula, is $3.215 per 100 pounds for 3 per cent milk. This is figured with hay at $16.50 per ton, corn at 97 cents per bushel, feed at $2.32 per hundred and labor at $.566 per hour. The cash received by the farmer for June milk was $1.21 per hundred pounds.

"We cannot produce $1.24 milk on $50 grain," says Mr. Savage. "It is hopeless to buy and feed grain when it takes 200 pounds of milk to pay for 100 pounds of grain."

Professor Savage advises dairy farmers to buy less concentrates for their cows, use all the second crop clover available, pasture the meadows, and feed a little less protein in the grain mixture. The article points out that the manufacturer of such products as linseed oil meal, corn gluten, bran, etc., gets all he can from the dairyman for these by-products instead of figuring them on a percentage basis in relation to the cost of the original product.

Professor Savage summarizes his advice to eastern dairymen like this: "Stop buying feed until prices get to the point where we are justified in buying. That means not much above $40 per ton for the mixture of concentrates. The present market is not justified and cannot be maintained. Work harder to keep up production by means of all the green and succulent things that can be gleaned off the farm this fall, late pasture, meadow pasture, second crop clover and grasses, green corn and the like. Kill the surplus cow. She costs too much to keep."
